Focus on growth $92B quant shop

RENAISSANCE TECHNOLOGIES' focus seems to be on "hot" growth stocks. Some of the holdings are in post IPO stocks that just had their floor debut.

Geographic diversification

Compared to other domestic hedge funds - Jim Simons like to invest in growth stocks that have their main operations based abroad. Jim believes that there is more growth in other countries than in the US - so that's why he selects companies from different geo locations.

Teaching others.

Jim Simons is a world famous mathematician who founded RENAISSANCE TECHNOLOGIES. He taught mathematics at MIT and Harvard.
